

BE PREPARED FOR SEVERE STORMS

We are always working to keep the power on, but power outages are still possible during severe weather. Follow these tips to prepare for potential power outages before they happen:

- Keep a flashlight, portable radio and fresh batteries handy.
- Have extra blankets or a sleeping bag for each person.
- Have bottled water on hand, especially if you have a water well and pump.
- Stock an emergency supply of convenience foods that do not require cooking.
- Assemble a first-aid kit.
- Gather prescription medications and other personal health items.
- Keep a charged cell phone and car charger handy in case of an emergency or to report your electricity is out.
- Tune to a local radio station for storm information and warnings that may be issued.
- Follow the manufacturer's instructions if operating a backup generator.
